Chapter 1 of 1

Scorpius Malfoy finds out that his grandfather eloped with Hermione Weasley.

Written for Ladyinthecloak - Saturday night Truth or Dare.

Scorpius stared at the Daily Prophet's headline in disbelief. How could this be true?

Lucius Malfoy and Hermione Weasley Wed in Secret Ceremony

Since the death of his grandmother years ago, Scorpius had known that his grandfather had wanted to marry again. But a Muggle-born? Surely his grandfather would never have done anything like this....

"Scorpius! Can you believe this?" Rose asked, running towards him from across the Hogwarts grounds.

"I can't. Did you know about it?" he asked, looking at her.

"Of course not," Rose replied indignantly.

Together they looked at the headline that was in the Daily Prophet, and then looked at one another. Since the downfall of Voldemort, there had been a lot less prejudice between Purebloods and Muggle-borns, but neither side had expected this.

Rose looked down at her hands, then turned to Scorpius. "Well, I suppose this is going to make things a lot more interesting when we announce our engagement."

"Yes, I suppose it will," Scorpius sad, leaning in to give her a kiss.
