I Come To You

Chapter 1 of 1

A poem to the guy I've fallen in love with and who is slowly breaking my heart.

I come to you,
With a half-healed heart
And broken trust,
Hoping you can heal me.
I feel so cold inside
And it seems
That no one understands
This pain.
Maybe I'm just dreaming
Maybe it's false hope
But I've gotten the feeling
That you understand
But it just fades away again.
I'm asking you to heal me
And bring me to your light
Drench me in the happiness
That surrounds you

Show me that love

Isn't all pain

make me feel real again.
