These Words

Chapter 1 of 1

A short poem that is about my poetry and how I feel.

These words are my tears,
My laughter, my life.
They express me and all that I feel.
They protect me
From the hurt inside.
They save me
from you.
This is the way I like it.
This is how I choose to live.
It might not last forever,
But it works for now.
These words hold my soul.
They keep my heart captive.
Because
If my heart is trapped within these words,
It won't get broken again.
These words save me.

They help me survive.

There's no other way

For me to stay whole.

These words are mine.

They express me

And all that I feel.
