The Thoughts Of Severus Snape

This is what they think of me

I'm not the monster they believe me to be

I did what had to be done

But still, was it worth it?

Everything that I ever said was

With good intention

Truth, Justice, compassion, forgiveness and love

Only that we know what is right and what is fair

That is what matters

In the end

And yes

I do have a heart

Contrary to everyone's beliefs

I put myself in danger to help another

But it's too late

I won't survive this

I guess that's the best

I can't forget all of this regret

This is my life

My sad and sorry pathetic, waste of a life

Well was it worth it?
