A Valentine Note

Chapter 1 of 1

A familiar's note to his human.

HermioneWeasley is to blame for the prompt: A non-human celebrates Valentines day. How does it look from a owl/cat/rat etc perspective.

I'm sarcastic today, so here is the result. I don't own it, of course.

Dear Frizzy-Haired Human Slave,

The season of Love is upon us.

Last year, you forgot to feed me for three days. Three days! You're lucky that I'm an accomplished mouser and not a weak kitten without any hunting skills.

This year, before you go on your little romantic getaway with He Who Gives Treats on the Sly, make sure my food bowl is full and you charm my water to stay fresh. If you don't, I will cough up hairballs in those tall leather boots you so covet. I may also leave one on your pillow.

Happy freaking Valentine's Day,

Crookshanks
