Strawberry Kisses

Chapter 1 of 1

Lucius has done something that he is sure will make Narcissa very cross.

Written from a prompt by Stefdarlin: strawberries, Lucius, kisses

She was going to murder him when she discovered what he had done. Well, maybe not murder him. Just give him a stern talking to and a good dose of pouty lip. He couldn't resist that pouty lip or those strawberry flavoured kisses. Those kisses is why he did what he did. She was leaving to visit her parents for the weekend, and he would miss those kisses. He had to do something.

With an eager finger, Lucius slathered the strawberry balm over his lips and gave them a good lick. Narcissa was going to be very angry with him when she discovered it gone.
