Prologue

Chapter 1 of 1

Draco is writing his autobiography.

The name of Malfoy has a long and proud heritage. Many in the Pureblood community consider us to be equivalent to royalty while others whom we consider to be blood traitors wish that we would be wiped off of the face of the earth.

There were many times that I did not think I would live to write my story. After all, I lived through some of the most arduous years of the wizarding world, and there were times when I felt my end was nearing. But I survived, as many Malfoys before me survived.

I am Draco Malfoy, and this is my story.

For Silverdove - Write the introduction to Draco Malfoy's autobiography.
