

In Her Memory

by savine_snape

Severus has received a gift from Weasley's Wizarding Wheezes, all is not what it seems.

In Her Memory

Chapter 1 of 1

Severus has received a gift from Weasley's Wizarding Wheezes, all is not what it seems.

In Her Memory

With a final thrust of his hips, Severus felt his orgasm wash over him.

As he came down, grief claimed him as her captive once more.

Severus berated himself; it was six months since Hermione had passed through the veil. However, to him it still felt like only yesterday that they had exchanged their wedding vows.

Cleaning himself up, he muttered to himself, "Silly fool."

Picking up the parchment that had wrapped the vial he scribbled his congratulations to George on the modified Daydream charm before turning to face his wife's portrait.

A single silent tear slipped down her cheek.

Disclaimer: I do not own Potterverse; it's the property of JK Rowling and others too numerous to mention. I make my money working in a chemistry lab.

Many thanks to Scoffy for her help and encouragement. Dearest Scoffy, you are an eternal source of joy and a great enabler.