Good Night

Chapter 1 of 1

A conversation between our favorite pair. They are just trying to sort things out after the outside world tries to break them apart.

"Did you really think I would do that? Did you really think that I am bad? Did you actually believe them, the lies that they told you about me?"

"You want to know what I think? What about the lies you told me? You taught me to look past everything I had ever learned. And tell me, what was it all worth?"

"Don't you know that I would never hurt you? You know how much I care about you."

"Caring about me isn't the point. The point is, can I trust you, after all they've pointed out to me, all these things you've done?"

"That's my job, in order to protect you. I'm trying to make this world of ours better. And you know what I was before this, evil at its finest, I got out of it. Don't hold my biggest regret against me. I'm trying to turn this around."

"I don't care who you were before, I know you're the bravest one of us all, and you wouldn't be able to help the way you do if you hadn't have had those years. I'm sorry you're hurting, that it weighs down on you so much."

"I don't need pity."

"Not pity, it's love."

He looks up at her and sees the pure sincerity in her brown eyes.

She says, "I still love you."

"As do I. I need to take back control of my life."

"But please, let me by your side." She reaches out to hold his head in her hands. He holds on tight to her as if it's his last chance to fight.

"I wouldn't have it any other way." He says as he kisses her goodnight.
