He knew the day would come when he would have to do what was honorable, but he was tired and getting angrier by the minute.

"Mrs. Weasley, you are a married woman. There is no way that your husband," he said with his usual sneer, "is going to let you do this. Now, if you will excuse me, I am going to bed."

She turned to him with tears in her eyes. "That is not your concern, all you would be doing is giving your sperm and nothing else; no time, no money, and no one would have to know."

"I would know! Do you think that I would want any offspring of mine raised by that Weasley idiot?"

She stood up from her seat and walked to the door. "Professor, you don't have any choice!"

He sat motionless in his wing-backed chair, listening to her clicking heels echo off the dungeon walls.

SHE SHOULD HAVE LET ME DIE!
