Chapter 1 of 1

Hermione receives a special gift from Severus.

A heavy thud sounded outside Hermione's rooms, and suddenly it was eerily quiet.

'What in the hell was that?' Hermione jerked out of bed, donned a pair of pink, fluffy bunny slippers, and went to investigate the noise.

Opening the door to the cool air of the dungeon, she looked about the pitch-black corridor and saw nothing but a plainly wrapped box.

Settling back into her warm, cosy bed, she unwrapped the package and came across a note written in Severus's familiar spidery scrawl.

You always wanted something of mine, so I thought I would oblige you with a souvenir. I hope you enjoy it. If you would rather have the real thing, you know where to find me.

Raising an eyebrow, she removed the wax paper from the box and stared wide-eyed at an exact replica of Severus's cock. Every minute detail was spot on, except for one thing—it was made of dark chocolate.

Hermione was torn between saving it and eating it. It looked rather good, but Severus was right, she would rather have the real thing. It may not have tasted as good as the chocolate, but it was infinitely more fulfilling.

Deciding sleep could wait until later, she went in search of Severus, though she didn't have to look for very long. He was standing in a niche close to the stairs and not moving

'Severus, what are you doing out here?'

'I was just returning from my nightly rounds, unlike you.'

'No need to get nasty.' She sidled up to him and slid her arm around his waist. 'I received your gift. It was quite lovely, though I'd rather have you.'

'To be fair, it's me, only chocolate and cream-filled.'

'I know something else that's cream-filled.' She grinned and trailed her hands to the front of his trousers, cupping him through the rough fabric. 'We should go to my rooms, Severus.'

'Er... I can't.'

'Why not? Do you have some place else you want to be at two in the morning?'

'No, I'm... er... Blimey, this is embarrassing. I seem to be stuck. Would you do me a bit of a favour and help me?'

'Only if you tell me how you got stuck.'

'Okay. I had been reading earlier and I came across something I shouldn't have. It was a curse that stated the next time I got an erection, I'd be stuck until someone agreed to release me.'

'Just what were you thinking of to make you hard in the corridor?'

'What do you think I was imagining? You've only been teasing me all day and walking around in an outfit that does little to hide your svelte figure.'

'I was only teasing, Severus,' she said and released him from the stone wall. 'Now, how about you and I go indulge in that little fantasy of yours?'

A/N: Thanks to PajamaPants who issued the following prompt: Severus is making rounds and accidentally gets something stuck in some object or part of the castle. What does Hermione do when she happens upon him? Also I'd like to thank Debjunk who issued this prompt: Someone gets a box of something chocolate covered. What is it and what do they do with it?
