

Winter's Solstice

by Lady Dragonsinger

Contemplating the passage of time at the solstice

A Winter's Poem

Chapter 1 of 1

Contemplating the passage of time at the solstice

Moonlight gleaming on the fresh white cover

New fallen snow – sparkles like a myriad of diamonds

Winter's night silent, serene

Watching the world in its dreamlike state

Solstice – the wheel turns yet again

The cycle continues in seamless fashion

Yet for a moment I am frozen in time with the world.
