Chapter 1 of 1

Severus has a question for Hermione on her birthday.

'Happy birthday, Hermione,' Severus whispered.

Hermione rolled over and laid her head on Severus's bare chest and kissed the pale, jagged scar above his heart.

'Will you go somewhere with me today?' Severus draped his arm over her hip and traced patterns on her bare skin.

'If it involves leaving this bed, I am reluctant to agree.'

'It will be worth it.'

'Where are we going, Severus?'

'I want you to meet who I hope will be your mother-in-law.'

Hermione gazed at his smiling face. 'Are you saying what I think you are?'

'That depends. Will you?'

'Yes, I will.'

Happy Birthday to WriterMerrin, who prompted: SS/HG, birthday, mother-in-law.
