Severus has fallen in love. Haiku format.

Disclaimer: Not mine

Not now, not ever, for sure

What a shame, really

Moon in the bright sky

Shines benignly down on them

Their love makes her smile

The forest—all dark

She turns to him, filled with joy

He with happiness

Scent of autumn—fresh

And crisp and sharp, arousing

Love is in the air

He leads her slowly

Out of woods to the castle

A feast awaits them

She smiles at him, shy

He feels the need to show love

His love, just for her
His rooms are near now
Too far; he stops to kiss her
She sighs happily
She takes a deep breath
Another smile on her face
“Scent of coconut!”
His sigh—pure relief
She likes when he cooks curry
“For you. Just for you.”
