

Between Truth and Lies

by luvsev

A private moment with Lucius.

Between Truth and Lies

Chapter 1 of 1

A private moment with Lucius.

As the sun rises on our resting forms, I gaze upon your long, white-blond locks splayed on my soft feather pillows. Your chest rises and falls underneath my silver satin sheets, a tiny smile of contentment graces your pouty lips as you lie in my arms. You shift closer, and your bright blue eyes open to focus on mine. In your certain, loving gaze, I am sure of one thing:

In the moments between truth and lies, there are no concerns, no whispers of where our loyalties lie. It's only you and me and the truth we've come to know.

A/N: Thanks to peppermint for the lightning fast beta. You rock, dear!