

Top Gear

by sunny33

Draco and a racing car. Believe it or not!

-

Chapter 1 of 1

Draco and a racing car. Believe it or not!

The young blond leaned to his right as he rounded a tight corner at seventy miles an hour. Flushed with exhilaration, he grinned and increased the pressure on the accelerator. Flicking through the flappy paddle gears with gay abandon, he swooped and swerved around the racecourse ahead of all his competitors in his roaring, red Ferrari.

"Beat that, Potter!" he cried as the chequered flag came down, signalling his victory.

Hermione strolled over and switched off the Playstation. "Actually, Draco, Harry beat that time easily last week. You'll need to do better than that to get into the top ten."

Saturday night drabble prompt from astopperindeath: Draco Malfoy races a sports car. Full liberties on why he would even be doing this in the first place.

100 words exactly.

Thanks to kingphilipswench for the beta.