Chapter 1 of 1

Draco makes a new start.

After the war, Draco had some tough thinking to do.

By the time Hogwarts reopened for his "seventh" year, his thoughts were sorted.

Even he was ready for a change, ready to be someone new.

Granger returned too. No different, really. She didn't need to be.

"I'm sorry," he choked out, drawing on courage he'd never had before.

"Nothing you say can—"

"Not even... I wish I had done things differently?"

"I... I'm... going to need to think about it."

Nodding, he watched her walk away.

Granger would forgive him. She had to. He was a changed man.
