

Will you remember?

by DraculaRulez

What if you could be with the one you love, but they have amnesia... what would you do?

Our Night

Chapter 1 of 1

What if you could be with the one you love, but they have amnesia... what would you do?

You come to me when light has gone,
Searching for a place to stay,
Exhausted you are,
I let you stay with me,
I watch you sleep,
You are so beautiful,
I want to stroke your hair,
Lie in your arms,
But prying eyes watch me,
It kills me to let you go,
I wait until the lights are off,
Not one can see me,
I sneak back to you in the dark,
The moon shines on your sleeping face,
Again I long to be with you,
Just for one night,
I am finally in your arms,

It feels perfect,
For one night I can be happy,
At peace,
As dawn approaches,
It will be as if nothing has ever happened,
I get up and leave you to rest,
No one will know anything,
I will stay here,
You will go home,
And I will remember our night together,
Maybe one day you will remember,
What happened between us,
Maybe then we can be together,
But for now,
Our night in the dark is just fine

Notes: Okay so this poem is a bit of a mystery. What happens is that this girl is in a relationship with someone with amnesia, and their night together might be their last and may only be remembered by the girl. In the end she hopes that he will remember but is okay with the fact that he might not.