

Is it love?

by DraculaRulez

How do you know when you are in love? Is it when that someone is always on your mind or is it something entirely different?

Am I in Love?

Chapter 1 of 1

How do you know when you are in love? Is it when that someone is always on your mind or is it something entirely different?

I think about you lots and lots,
Sometimes very little,
I enjoy spending time with you,
Actually I love it
You can make me smile,
Remember moments,
That fly by,
I wish to be with you,
Forever and ever
I dream about you often enough,
Yet not enough,
To quench my thirst,
For you
When will you accept we must be together?
I have to trust you,
Realize you are not half bad,

And that nothing good,

Comes without bad

Notes: This is just a poem I decided to write about someone who plagues my dreams...
