What Hermione finds after a long day at work.

GrangerSnape100 Challenge: Stars

After a long day at work, Hermione was ready to get home and spend a quiet evening with her family. Typically, the sounds of her daughters' exclamations welcomed her home.

However, today she was only met with silence.

As she carefully walked closer to Alandria's bedroom, she heard a quiet mumbling that sounded much like her husband. She carefully opened the door to discover Severus sitting on the ground surrounded by bits of coloured paper.

The sound of the door caught Alandria's attention. "Look! See Mum! Daddy's helping me make stars to decorate my ceiling, just like at Al's house".
