Death Eaters play Bingo. Who wins?

One-Shot

Chapter 1 of 1

Death Eaters play Bingo. Who wins?

I don't own them. It's all JK Rowling's. I'm just borrowing them for the moment.

Men and women dressed in black and wearing masks were hunched over pages containing spaces and numbers. One person was hissing numbers at them as they scanned their pages in hopes of a match.

Muttering was heard through the room. Bellatrix looked up at the Dark Lord as he prepared to draw another number.

"Sixty-six."

"This is hard."

Malfoy frowned at Crabbe. "It's only numbers."

"Ninety."

Robes rustled as the pages were scanned once more.

"Two."

Goyle yelped. "Oh. Not yet."

The Dark Lord glared at Goyle as he drew another number. "Forty-two."

Yaxley nodded and smiled. "Bingo."

"Well done."

A/N: Inspired by Chore Bingo initiated by PajamaPants and implemented by various fangirls on LJ, Lady Dragonsinger suggested the admins write about Death Eater Bingo. Lady Dragonsinger, luvsev, and teshara also suggested no commas, no exclamation marks, and no adjectives, respectively. Without the disclaimer and A/N, this story contains exactly 100 words according to Google Documents. Thanks go to Lady Dragonsinger for the beta-reading.
