A Change of Tactic

Chapter 1 of 1

Severus on the offensive? Time for a change challenge.

"Miss Granger, your inability to summon an original thought gives the lie to your much vaunted intelligence. Think, girl! Use the brain that must be hiding in all that hair.

Don't touch, Granger! Have you no sense of self-preservation? The slightest contact with your skin will have repercussions you have never dreamed of. You are playing with fire.

You are too close. Stand back or I cannot be responsible for your safety. You are being nothing short of reckless. Hasn't the last year taught you anything?

Granger.

Miss Granger."

What can I say to make you listen?

"Hermione, please."
