

No, I am Not in Love With You

by reets67

For all those who find themselves in the unenviable position of falling in love with a friend

Part 1 of 1

Chapter 1 of 1

For all those who find themselves in the unenviable position of falling in love with a friend

Thanks to Anna for your input and support :0)

No, I'm Not in Love With You.

No, I'm not in love with you when you laugh at my silly jokes or I laugh at yours.

No, I'm not in love with you when we do something thoughtful for each other.

No, I'm not in love with you when we sit in comfortable silence.

No, I'm not in love with you when we talk and laugh for hours.

No, I'm not in love with you when we love listening to and playing music.

No, I'm not in love with you when I glance at you and catch you smiling at me.

No, I'm not in love with you when we have intellectually stimulating discussions.

No, I'm not in love with you when you pull me close and kiss me on the cheek to say goodbye.

Because to be in love with you my friend is pointless... Because you only see me as a friend.