Huey, Dewey and... Louisa

Chapter 1 of 1

How did Huey, Dewey and Louisa end up at Hogwarts? And who's their father?

"Crooks! Crooksy, where are you? Bad cat, come here... There you are! Where have you been? It's your fault if I miss curfew. Have you been hiding in dark corners again? You really should stay in the tower..."

"Shhh... Be quiet, Ronald... You don't want her to catch us, do you?"

"Nah, she's been pretty lazy lately. It's cold and windy; she won't be out tonight... Getting old, I'd say. Also... The same can't be said for your cat, Hermione."

"Crookshanks! Sneaking out again?"

"How could this happen? You know better than to dally with scallywags like him! Really, I don't understand. I thought I had brought you up better... Oh, don't look at me like that. You know that I can't stay cross with you when you're making that face! It still isn't right, and you know that!"

"I know it was him!"

"How would you know? He's not the only one who could be responsible..."

"Are you calling her a slag?"

"Of course not! I just..."

"I knew you would react like that! And I knew he wouldn't take responsibility. But she'll do just fine without him! But we'll see who'll be upset when they have his hair! You better tell him to stay away from her. I don't want her upset, not in her condition!"

"It's not like he can be held responsible. It's... An instinct, really!"

"Oh yes, that's what they all say! But I won't accept that, oh no!"

"Oh, Morgana! That's just the cutest thing I've ever seen! And the hair..."

"Told you it'd be ginger. Is he still going to deny that he's the father?"

"No, of course not! Do they already have names?"

"Of course. We decided on Huey, Dewey and Louie."

"Huey, Dewey and Louie? Where did you get these names from?"

"I read the stories to her while she was pregnant. She took a liking to them..."

"Okay... However... I think you might consider calling this one Louisa... She's definitely a girl."

"Hrrmpf."

"Well. I'll let Crookshanks know that he's a father. I'll make sure he drops by and takes responsibility. I promise, Mr. Filch."

"You better keep that promise, Miss Granger. If not that monster of yours has forfeit his life... I would not appreciate if my Mrs. Norris had to bear not only the shame of being a single mum but also being left by the father..."

Prompt: Mrs. Norris gets pregnant by Crookshanks. How does Filch react?
