

Letter from Hogwarts

by HermioneWeasley1972

A letter to parents from a student at Hogwarts.

One shot

Chapter 1 of 1

A letter to parents from a student at Hogwarts.

Hello Mum, Hello Dad

I gotta say that school is rad.

My classes are quite enlightening

Except for yesterday when it was frightening.

I flew a broomstick into the sky

And I managed not to die.

Another boy who's soft spoken

Did manage to fall and has a wrist that's broken.

All of us hate Slytherin kids

Though we all like the Giant Squid.

Madame Hooch who teaches flying

Says not too many players end up dying.

This is hardly worth a mention,

but tonight I had detention.

That was just a little scary

Since I had to deal with things mad and hairy.

Bring me home, oh Mum and Dad.

Bring me home, it's not too rad.

Don't leave me here, it's taking its toll;

I might get pounded by a troll.

Dearest Daddy, Darling Mummy

How's my goldfish, little Chummy?

If you will heed my plea

I'll even do every chore you give me.

Hang on a second, dinner's nearing.

And my housemates all are cheering.

Things are not such a bummer.

Think I'll stick it out 'til summer.

Prompt from TeaOli – Hello Muddah, Hello Faddah: A Muggle-born writes home from Hogwarts.