Disclaimer: I own nothing that you recognize. JKR is the goddess, but she lets her friends down off Mount Hogwarts occasionally for us mere mortals to visit with.

Quest: to write a drabble about Severus Snape, Pansy Parkinson, and the giant squid

"Miss Parkinson, exactly what are you doing?"

The smoothly spoken words caused Pansy to scatter prawns all across the grass as she turned to face her Head of House.

She pulled herself together as she replied, "Just doing my part to... help, sir."

Professor Snape lifted an eyebrow. "Help who?" he inquired. "The Hogwarts Underwater Zoological Society?"

"Well, sir... some of the students... thought it could be helpful in upcoming, um, times to have the loyalty of some of the school's creatures," Pansy replied.

"I rather doubt having the giant squid looking for a handout will be of use to anyone, Miss Parkinson."
