

You're Still Unnoticed

The Streets are Violent

Chapter 1 of 1

Just another random poem that I wrote.

The streets are violent
Dancing the night away
as a fiery grave awaits
most of them
Our fingers touch
Unnoticed
Where do we go from here?
You're always disappearing
Am I supposed to wait forever?
My heart cannot bear the sorrow
if we fail again
I pick up the pieces of my heart
After each time you disappear
After every time
a piece gets lost

The streets are silent
They're violent
Dancing the day away
Dancing the night away
An icy grave
A fiery grave
Take your pick
I'm not picky
After all
I'm not the one going in
You're still unnoticed
Even though you're gone
No one knows you existed
Days pass
Nights pass
You're still unnoticed
