Chapter 1 of 1

A young Severus Snape makes a decision about his life.

Nobody Cared.

I look in the mirror

What do I see?

A filthy disgrace

Staring at me.

I stare at the glass

The reflecting face

The who lost who lost out,

In life's big race.

I look again

And punch the glass

I guess my future

Is just one big past

I hear him collapse

Drunk on the floor

At least for now

I fear no more.

It's not enough

I don't want to live

Ill leave this world

It has nothing left to give.

Ill get away

From the hurt and the pain

Maybe then someone

Will remember my name

I look in the mirror

What do I see?

A filthy disgrace

Staring at me

Last night I killed myself...

...Nobody cared.
