A Lonely Villanelle...

Falling Star

Over the black ocean a streak crossed the sky
A star fell, and I knew it was you
Come across a continent to kiss me good night
Miles away I roam, and I hurt for missing you I'm Half across the global sphere, alone without you
Over the black ocean a streak crossed the sky
The sun goes up, the sun sinks down, the days drag on by
Your letter comes, it makes me cry, my smile the color blue
Come across a continent to kiss me good night
Wishing I were free, I gaze o'er the eastern sky
Staring at the dismal clouds, they hide away the moon
Over the black ocean a streak crossed the sky
I lie awake, I miss your love, I can't sleep at night, my Dreams of you keep me warm, leave me breathless for you to
Come across a continent to kiss me good night
Leaning o'er the rail I gaze at the stars and I

Think of how you kissed me last, how I'm wanting you

Over the black ocean a streak crossed the sky

Come across a continent to kiss me good night
