Damnation

Chapter 1 of 1

How do you feel, when who you love does not love you back?

I am bound to the depths of hell
Because to damnation you condemned me
Thus to you i did not tell
That even earth is agony, you see
Since i don't have you i fell
So where i am doesn't matter to me
I could be in paradise
And i would not notice its majesty
Without your presence nothing can mesmerise
For you are the source of all luxury
I am blessed with the ability to cherish
And cursed by your rejection
In loneliness you make me perish
With no real connection
Your body is the object of my wish
Thou I am not of your selection
