At Last

Chapter 1 of 1

sometimes, from within the pain we find the strength to let go.

Today my heart runs fast
My body can't keep along
My soul was left behind
You're out of my sight, at last
I cried for so many hours
Until the tears i could away cast
It was the best i ever did
I'm not near you, at last
For an eternity you were there
All my life you held my hand
All your life you heard my fears
Now you're free of my tears, at last
When i felt sad you cooped with me
When my troubles were too great
You always had an answer
Now you are cheerful, at last
For the first time i do right

I left you in despite
Of my aching heart
For you suffer no more, at last
I set you free like a butterfly
For you to enjoy life and fly
For had i stay more you'd suffer
Only i hurt for my aches, at last
Today my heart runs slow
My body passed it fast
My soul died long ago
You are free of me, at last
