

Lily's Letter To Harry

by HermioneWeasley1972

A letter Lily wrote to Harry the night of her death.

Lily's Letter To Harry

Chapter 1 of 1

A letter Lily wrote to Harry the night of her death.

Dearest Harry, my only son
My life is over, yours just begun.
Dad and I wish you only the best
And leave for you these requests.
May you never give up, whatever the fight
May you never stray from the path that's right.
Our love for you will help guide your way
And help each dark night dawn into day.
Whenever you feel lost, alone or scared
Look to your heart and we'll be there.
We, together, our lives now gladly give
In hopes, in our passing, that you will live.
Dad in your patronus you will see,
In your heart there's reflections of me.
We'll look down on you from Heaven above,
And I'll protect you with the gift of my love.

*Remember, dear Harry, through all of your life
Wars are not always won with fighting and strife
Instead of your wand, reach out with your heart
For that is where healing always will start.*