

Rejoice!

by HermioneWeasley1972

I'm SO EXCITED! (Can you tell I'm excited? LOL) This is my first non HP writing in years.

This is a short little poem that I wrote tonight which is about a day in the forest.

Rejoice!

Chapter 1 of 1

I'm SO EXCITED! (Can you tell I'm excited? LOL) This is my first non HP writing in years.

This is a short little poem that I wrote tonight which is about a day in the forest.

*The darkness fades as night moves on
And pastels herald the break of dawn.
Chill is driven by each golden ray
And a chorus of birds welcomes the day.
The day continues and shadows lengthen
The clouds converge as breezes strengthen.
A roll of thunder fortells the storm
And crisp, fallen leaves begin to swarm.
Across the sky, lightning carves a path
Willows succumb to the wind's fierce wrath.
The leaves on the trees are beaten and battered;
Petals of flowers are plucked and then scattered.
The wind finally settles, ending its breath,
Lightning moves on, thunder meeting its death.*

Under the rainfall the earth was downtrodden

Streams are now filled, the foliage sodden.

The song of birds is once again aired.

Thankful that their forest was spared.

Rabbits frolic in the midst of clover

Everyone's rejoicing; the drought is over.

Sharon Hendricks

4/30/07