The Rest of the Prophecy

Chapter 1 of 1

This is what Sybill Trelawney would have predicted had she been able to see further into the future.

*A child will be born
As the seventh month dies
With raven black hair
And emerald green eyes.
His parents will love him
But one Halloween night
They'll give up their lives
Doing that which is right.
Friends he can count on
Won't show up for years.
Life - a constant struggle
With hunger and tears.
He'll find himself glared at
With mock and with scorn
He'll find himself wishing
He'd never been born.*

He'll fight many battles

And each time he'll win

But the biggest he'll face

Is the one from within.

His stubbornness is

What will keep them apart

But someday, at last

He'll give her his heart.
