Chapter 1

Chapter 1 of 1

An apathetic description of apathy.

I'm without want.
I'm going to give up,
As soon as I find,
Something to surrender.
It's a long, lonely journey,
Of black and white periphery
It could very well be,
Another lesson in futility.
I don't know,
Why no one's asking,
But, of course, I understand,
Infectious apathy.
There's so much to do,
And no time to spare,
But life without value...
Well, tell me why I should care.
