Masks

Chapter 1 of 1

Sometimes we wear more than one mask.

Severus collapsed into her arms. Hermione sat hard with tears streaming down her face.

It was getting too hard to watch him push and punish himself. Hiding behind the mask in a literal and real sense.

Hermione pulled the Death Eater's silver, hard mask off to reveal the face of her secret beloved.

"Why must you be so stubborn?" she whispered.

He didn't hear the concerned voice and want threaded through the soft voice.

If he did he would merely don the mask he wore for so long and dismiss her concern. Masks must always stay on.
