Chapter 1 of 1

Filking of Layla by Eric Clapton and Jim Gordon

As always I don't own the music, I don't own the original lyrics and I especially don't own anything JRK has created... That said I do FILK.

Layla is owned by (Eric Clapton and Jim Gordon)

Severus

What'll you do when they are hunting?

And nobody believes you're on our side?

You been serving, and spying much too long.

You know your are my pride.

[Chorus:]

Severus, I'm falling to my knees.

Severus, I'm begging, saying please.

Severus, won't you ease passing now.

I tried to give Harry information

But I fear I've let you down.

Like a fool, he'll not trust in you,

Please hunt the Horocruxes down

[Chorus]

Severus, I'm falling to my knees.

Severus, I'm begging, saying please.

Severus, won't you ease passing now.

Let's make the best of the situation

For I'll soon die anyway.

Please don't say you'll never find a way

And tell me death is not in vain.

[Chorus]

Severus, I'm falling to my knees.

Severus, I'm begging, saying please.

Severus, won't you ease passing now.
