The Kiss

Chapter 1 of 1

Hermione and Severus kiss.

Disclaimer: The sandbox belongs to J.K. Rowling. I only play here.

A lifetime of possibilities can be born and die in a kiss. It was simply an impulse that made Hermione kiss Professor Severus Snape.

He was looming over her, dressing her down for some mistake he thought she had made. Hermione, looking up at him just, for once in her life, didn't think, and she planted one on his lips.

It was like a whole world was blossoming in front of her. Severus' lips were dry and firm, and he traced the seams of her lips, seeking entrance. Hermione gasped. Severus entered. The universe exploded, and maybe love was born.
