Chapter 1 of 1

Summary: Moaning Myrtle. Mambo #5. Do I really have to go on? Good, clean, er, lewd fun!

Moaning Myrtle's Mambo Number 5 (sung to Lou Bega's Mambo #5)

Filked by dracontia, may God have mercy on her soul

Based on Lou Bega's Mambo # 5

Disclaimer: I don't own Myrtle, the HP series, or Lou Bega. I would even be willing to bet that someone has had this particular idea before, so all my effort is really rather pathetic. And they don't have a warning for voyeurism...

Witches and Wizards, this is Moaning Myrtle's Mambo Number 5!

(Instrumental—ie, splashing, gurgling, rhythmic plunger sounds)

One, two, three, four, five

I was in the girl's toilet, just trying to hide

From those

Girls so cruel, I was stressed, when I died in the loo

Stuck with spots and specs fifty years, too

I'm depressed and I wanna weep

I got flushed deep, to snipe and creep

Hermione

brought in

Ron and

Harry

It gave me ideas—

Boys really aren't wary

So here's what I do for a change of scene in the castle

I get an eyeful without any hassle

My pipes also go to the boy's loo

And I can get to the Prefects' bath, too!

Chorus:

A little bit of Harry's cute backside

A little bit of Draco when he cried

A little bit of Ron (he's sometimes mean)

A little bit of Terry getting clean

A little bit of Vincent, oh so tough

A little bit of Justin is enough

A little bit of Oliver here with me

Hogwarts' hottest boys are mine to see!

AHH!

(Instrumental—see above)

Myrtle's Mambo Number 5!

Swim up and down with a splashing sound

Take a look all around

Ooh, see what I found!

Take one peek left

And one peek right

Get a look at his front

And his bum's nice and tight

I'm so inspired

I've got the notion

To haunt Snape's lab

And steal a love potion

Chorus:

A little bit of Neville (he's so sweet!)

A little bit of Ernie is a treat

A little bit of Blaise to make me sigh

A little bit of Dean I'd like to try

A little bit of George but not with Fred

(A dead girl takes what she can get)

A little bit of Cedric, here I am

Why won't you come back and be my man?

(instrumental)

Ahh!

(instrumental)

(Splash!)

What was that?

Quit looking, Myrtle!

(tee hee hee hee!)

(instrumental)

A little bit of Marcus in dim light

A little bit of Theo late tonight

A little bit of Lupin (old, but hot)

A little bit of Snape 'till I got caught

A little bit of Gregory (ooh, he's strong)

A little bit of Percy (the prat is hung)

A little bit of Michael here's my plan:

First of them to die will be my man

Why won't you agree

to fall in love with a girl like me

You can't run and you can't hide

So there's no point in being shy

Chorus:

A little bit of Harry's cute backside

A little bit of Draco when he cried

A little bit of Ron (he's sometimes mean)

A little bit of Terry getting clean

A little bit of Vincent, oh so tough

A little bit of Justin is enough

A little bit of Oliver here's my plan:

First of them to die will be my man

Yeah, someone's gonna get it in the last book—

Might as well do me some good!

(sound of flushing)

Author's Note: Myrtle and I both like to watch. If you're inclined to sit there feeling squicked and muttering, 'TMI,' just think—poor Tempest had to read this first. It's not even as if it has any grammar to check. I just asked her to do the impossible task of double-checking if this even remotely fits the flippin' tune. Which it does... remotely...

And, for the record, it's bloody hard to come up with lyrics that fit the first part of Mambo #5. The real lyrics barely fit the tune.
