Empty

Chapter 1 of 1

Post-DH poetry/song. Inspired by the relationship between Snape and Lily.

Author's notes: Thanks to Kingpig for beta'ing and for the encouragement. Also for listening to my ramblings. Thanks, too, to Merlina (aka Scullygirl818) over on WIKtT for suggesting that I post for the challenge.

I am sorry

I cannot be who you need

I am sorry

That I ever hurt you

I am sorry

That I love you so much

I can still hardly breathe

That look in your eyes

You've never looked so tempting

To see those tears

Trace down your face

I've never felt so empty

But before it's too late

I swear I'll ease this burden

I've grown to hate

Try as I might

No matter what I do

I am still stuck here

With this ghost of you

And you haunt me

My fears I erase

But I've never felt so empty

felt so empty

That look in your eyes

You've never looked so tempting

To see those tears

Trace down your face

I've never felt so empty

But before it's too late

I swear I'll ease this burden

I've grown to hate
