Chapter 1 of 1

At the moment I'm living in a very beautiful old city in Italy, but it can get a bit depressing at times because there's always too much fog or smog for a view. But on Sunday, I could see out! (25.11.07)

I saw the mountains today,
Subtle shades of blue rising
From indigo fields to pale sky;
Clouds thick above and a shimmer
So white – is that snow? –
Gleams on peaks sharp.
It is oddly reassuring after
All these weeks to be Reminded that the
World beyond these walls
Still does exist.
