Voldy the Snake Man

Chapter 1 of 1

This is my second entry for the filk challenge. It's sung to Frosty the Snowman. I hope you enjoy it!

Voldy the snake man
Was a scary, frightening soul
With bright red eyes
and slits for nose
And only one life goal.
Voldy the snake man
is really dead they say
But the trio knows
And Wormy also
How he came to life one day.
There must have been dark magic in that piece of bone he found.
For when he put it in the stew
Voldy rose up from the ground.
Oh, Voldy the snake man
Was alive as he could be

And the Death Eaters claim

He could cast and maim

Just the same as Avery.

He raised his wand to cast a curse

And end young Harry's cries,

And he only paused a moment when

He got a huge surprise.

For Lily and James

Helped Harry get away.

But Voldy said as Harry fled,

"He'll die another day."

Thumpety thump thump thumpety thump thump

Look at Voldy curse.

Thumpety thump thump thumpety thump thump

Get another hearse!
