

I'll Have Myself a Very Dreary Christmas

by Southern_Witch_69

A filk to "Have Yourself a Very Merry Christmas"

One-shot

Chapter 1 of 1

A filk to "Have Yourself a Very Merry Christmas"

I'll have myself a very dreary Christmas,
How can my heart be light?
From now on,
You will be out of my sight.
I'll have myself a very dreary Christmas,
Since I sent you away.
From now on,
My one true love has gone miles away.
I wish we were in the olden days,
Just Grindelwald and Dumbledore,
Best friends and lovers so close together,
Remaining that way forevermore.
These many hollow years have slowly passed along,
Each of us guilty of sin.
Sleep well in your prison, Nurmengard's highest tower,
While I'll have myself a very dreary Christmas again.

Hehe... couldn't resist.

An internet source says that this song comes from the film Meet Me In St. Louis

Hugh Martin, Ralph Blane 1943.