Grandma Got Knocked Off By A Death Eater

Grandma got knocked off by a Death Eater.

Walking home from our house Christmas eve.

You can say there's no more Death Eaters,

but as for me and Grandpa, we believe.

She'd been drinking too much eggnog,

and we begged her not to go.

But she forgot her draught 'n elixir, so she staggered out the door into the snow.

When we found her Christmas morning,

at the scene of the attack,

with the Dark Mark floating over her

and staring up blankly, lying on her back.

Now we're all so proud of Grandpa,

He's been taking this so well.

See him in there watching Quidditch, drinking butterbeer and playing snaps with Cousin Mel. It's not Christmas without Grandma, All the family's dressed in black, and we just can't help but wonder: Should we open up her gifts, or send them back? Send them back!! Now the goose is on the table and the pudding made of fig and the blue and silver candles that would just have matched the hair on Grandma's wig. I've warned all my friends and neighbors better watch out for yourselves, they should never disrespect a wizard

in a skull mask 'n black robes

who curses elves.
