Chapter 1 of 1

A bit of something I wrote a while back.

I look at you

Daring me

To see beyond

The mask you wear

I look at you

My longing

Caught in my throat

I look at you

I see someone

Whose face

I would touch

Should you let me near

I see someone

Full of passion

and of grace

I see someone

I want you

Beyond all thought

Beyond our masks

Your body I'd caress

I want you

Beyond mere lust

Beyond myself

I want you

I look at you

Your pale gray eyes

See through me

And conquer me

I look at you

See what I would grasp

See what I would touch

I look at you

My hand frozen

At my side

I look at you...
