Chapter 1 of 1

Just a poem I wrote. The title refers to a text message typo, I was trying to tell someone that I was SCARED.

I'm Sacred

I don't like using the word love

Or prefixing friend with boy or best

Don't like having my heart on my sleeve

Don't like getting things off my chest

I don't want to miss you

When you've been away too long

Don't want to feel hurt

When you've done me wrong

I don't need a shoulder

On which I can lean

I don't need to sit with you

Quiet and serene

I'll never believe that

It's not all a big joke

When you say that you're not

Exactly like those other folks

I won't accept your love

Or the promise of friends

Because I'm too scared of the hurt

When it eventually ends
